Imagine the shower scene from Psycho. The approaching shark fin in Jaws. Julie Andrews atop the Austrian mountains. Chances are, it’s not just an image, but a sound that comes to mind. Actors’ voices, sound effects, theme songs, and musical scoring can make or break a movie. When it comes to the big screen, your ears play a big role.

Top 10 Film Scores:

1. Star Wars
2. Gone with the Wind
3. Apocalypse Now
4. Psycho
5. The Godfather
6. Jaws
7. The Sound of Music
8. The Exorcist
9. Rocky
10. The Godfather

Most Recognized Movie Voices:

1. Clint Eastwood
2. Orson Welles
3. Christopher Walken
4. James Earl Jones
5. Jack Nicholson
6. Marilyn Monroe

Most Memorable Sound Effects:

1. Darth Vader’s breathing, Star Wars
2. Lightsabers, Star Wars
3. Tarzan Yell, Tarzan the Ape Man
4. Lights, Star Wars
5. T-Rex roar, Jurassic Park
6. The four-note musical score
7. The three roles of sound effects:
   1. Create a mood
   2. Simulate reality
   3. Imply something off scene

Sonic presents: Surrounded by Sound
EXPERIENCING MOVIE MAGIC THROUGH AUDIO

Imagine the shower scene from Psycho. The approaching shark fin in Jaws. Julie Andrews atop the Austrian mountains. Chances are, it’s not just an image, but a sound that comes to mind. Actors’ voices, sound effects, theme songs, and musical scoring can make or break a movie. When it comes to the big screen, your ears play a big role.